Dear Sir:-

Noting your invention covered by patent Number 720,507, issued Feb. 10, 1903, we beg to call your attention to the facilities this Exchange affords to Inventors, for the exploitation of their patents.

Extensive Experience and Systematic Correspondence with all classes of industrial and commercial enterprises throughout the world, enables the International Patents Exchange to bring its subscribers in DIRECT COMMUNICATION with RESPONSIBLE parties most likely to be interested in their inventions, and in addition, to furnish Expert Knowledge and advice in all matters pertaining to the commercial possibilities and value of their inventions.

The Exchange does not act in any legal capacity, but only as a medium through which patentees may eliminate the usual expense in reaching means for the development of their inventions, and derive a just share of the profits accruing therefrom.

If you wish to list your invention with the Exchange for the purpose of opening negotiations for its exploitation, kindly sign and return the enclosed Postal Card, when necessary papers for your signature will be forwarded at once.

Very truly yours,

INTERNATIONAL PATENTS EXCHANGE,

By
